

Press Release

AET announces new Maintenance & Support policy per January 2009.

Arnhem, 2 December 2008 - In addition to keeping you current with the latest product features and software updates and upgrades, purchasing your AET Maintenance & Support agreement in time can save you money! Renew your AET Maintenance & Support Agreement this year to be entitled to the latest versions and support.

Maintenance & Support for AET software like SafeSign Identity Client or BlueX Digital ID Management is not included in the one time license fee for this software. It can be purchased for one or several years within 90 days after purchasing the one time license or expiration of the previous Maintenance & Support agreement.

If there is no valid AET Maintenance & Support agreement on your product licence or it has expired within 1 to 90 days, you have to buy new one time licenses according to the list price in addition to purchasing a one-year Maintenance & Support renewal contract.

AET customers should check if they have a valid Maintenance & Support Agreement; expired contracts can only be renewed until the new policy becomes effective in January 2009. After that date expired agreements can not be renewed!
